"If this policy is continued other than where it is clearly shown to be in the public interest," said the council, "the south may logically expec to return to a predominantly agricultural status."

The industrialists were assembled to formulate a unified policy for industry in this section.

John E. Edgerton, president of the Southern States Industrial Council, which sponsored the meeting, said the small industries under the national recovery act were in a helpless position "to protect themselves against ma-

South As Unit.

The council insisted that 13 southern states and a part of a fourteenth be taken as a "broad economic unit in the consideration of codes." The states are Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia and the southermost section of West Virginia.

Up to Southerners.

Dr. Charles H. Herty, the chemist who developed the process for converting southern pine into newsprint, speaking at a luncheon meeting, told the group that it was up to southern businessmen to see that capital becomes available to develop "a great new industry for the south."

The industry, based on southern pine, he said, would include not only the manufacture of newsprint, but also the production of cellulose, the basis of rayon and cellulose paper. New comparisons have shown, he said, that cellulose made from pine had a "little higher percentage of purity" than commercial types now in use.

The study reveals the following situation:

Mississippi, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia and the southermost section of West Virginia.

"Modification Urged.

"It is the composite opinion of this group," she said, "that NRA must be drastically modified or shandoned altogether. Specifically 34.2 per cent want if modified, 43.4 per cent want it abandored altogether and 22.4 per cent are for the NRA as it is."

The question that brought the figures was "whether NRA should be continued to June 16, 1935, and after that date."

Mrs. Mager's report said further:

"Those who were in favor of some sort of federal supervision of industry were especially favorable to the following provisions:

"Maximum hours, minimum wages, southern wage differential and fair trade provisions of the code. Collective bargaining also received approval but every manufacturer was emphatic in his insistence that section 7-A be clarified."

The study reveals the following situation:

The deficit is now $4,068,000, of which $2,750,000 is owed Confederate yeterans and their widows, $600,000 is due the Milledgeville hospital and the balance is due state departments, all in small amounts.

Thus with a deficit of $4,068,000, the state has on hand, one place and another a total of something like $4,800,000.

Wife of "Lone Eagle" To Appear as Witness at Hauptmann Trial.

TRENTON, N. J., Dec. 28.—(P)—
Mrs. Anne Morrow Lindbergh, it was learned from an authoritative source today, will be called as a witness for the prosecution in the trial of Brunn Richard Hauptmann, which starts at Flemington next week. Hauptmann is charged with the murder of Mrs. Lindbergh's infant son.

The authority from whom it was learned Mrs. Lindbergh will testify said she will be "an important state witness."

It was not revealed what the nature of her testimony would be. She is to be a "willing" witness, in the words of the source, and will not be subponeaed.

The official who made the announcement said "it is only natural that Mrs. Lindbergh, her child having been kidnaped, would like to take the witness stand and tell what she knows of the case."

The fact that she would be called as a witness was not announced earlier, the source said, because the state was disinclined to "try the case beforehand."

At the same time it was also learned that the state will not accept the offer of John Hughes Curtis, Norfolk (Va.) shipbuilder and convicted hoaxer of the case, to testify for the prosecution against Hauptmann.

In connection with Curtis it was understood, however, that the defense is very anxious for him to testify in behalf of the German carpenfer.

THE LARGEST-SELLING READY-TO-EAT CEREAL

It was in 1906 that our company It was in 1906 that our company brought out the original Corn Flakes. Growing steadily in popu-larity for 28 years, Kellogg's Corn Flakes have become an important factor in the lives of millions of people—consumers and farmers.

More than a trainload of grain comes to Battle Creek daily, and other trains carry Kellogg's Cereals to all parts of the world.

When you eat a bowl of Kellogg's Corn Flakes, 12,000,000 other peo-ple are also enjoying them. The whole year's yield of a 700-acre field whole year's yield of a 700-acre field of corn is consumed every day in Kellogg's Corn Flakes. And that is only the start. The milk of a quar-ter of a million dairy cows, and the fruit from hundreds of acres of orchard, are used daily along with this famous cereal.

We have always put the quality of Kellogg's Corn Flakes beyond imitation. Finer flavor. Crisper, more appetising flakes. More value for what you pay. Ask for Kellogg's, in the red-and-green package, and don't be satisfied with substitutes. Your family deserves the best.

Bigger Income Through Department Reflects Better Business Condi-

Revenue of the Atlanta police department increased in 1934 by more than 50 per cent over the amount taken in during 1933, it was revealed Friday by Police Chief T. O. Sturdivant. The 1934 revenue was placed it 1963.02.74. while the 1933 income was only $123,997.35.

The increase in arrests, it was noted, were not proportionate with the increase in revenue. To date this year, 46,700 names have been entered on the police docket, while in 1933, 44,086 cases were made.

Chief Sturdivant estimated that approximately 95 per cent of the revenue of the police department was derived from fines assessed in recorder's court, and the remaining 5 per cent from the sale of junk, whisky cans and other miscellaneous property accumulated by the police.

The financial figures of the police department, Chief Sturdivant pointed out, was an accurate barometer of local business conditions and indicate that money is more plentiful and that more violators were able to pay fines this year than in 1933, which accounts for the increased revenue.

Bids for Remodeling Old P. O. Are Opened

Smith-Tew Construction Company and Barge-Thompson, both of Atlanta, submitted low bids to the treasury department Friday for remodeling the old Atlanta postoffice building.

The award probably will go to Barge-Thompson at $33,888 if cleaning and painting exterior masonry is included in the contract, but should this work be omitted. Smith-Tew appeared he successful bidder at $29,790.

Barge-Thompson submitted a base old of $29,888 with $4,000 to be added for the exterior job, while Smith-few gave a figure of $29,790 and offered to do the outside work for 14,700.

To Quiet Noisy Rooster

A West Peachtree street resident, icked because his early morning slumber was disturbed by the lusty crowing of a rooster, told police Friday morning that he had paid a neighbor, the owner of the rooster, a dollar to kill the animal, but the crowing, instead of ceasing, became more noisy and nerve-racking.

Radio Patrolmen M. R. Dodd and O. M. Morgan, summoned by the drowsy complainant at 6 o'clock Friday morning, attempted to find the offending bird which had sought escape from the law by running beneath a house. Though the bird was silenced for the time being the police went away empty-handed and the man whose sleep was disturbed was confident that his neighbor had purchased two more roosters with the dollar he gave him to kill the noisy, dawn-heralding one.

TAXATION ON STOCK The question of whether or not stock in foreign corporations which have been domesticated in Georgia is subject to municipal taxation was raised in Fulton superior court Friday when R. DeWitt King filed a suit seeking to enjoin the city of Atlanta from collecting approximately $11,000 in taxes for the years 1930 to 1934, inclusive on his stock in Family Loan Society, Inc., a Delaware corporation, which, it is alleged, has been domesticated and should enjoy the same immunity as Georgia corporations.

DO SOMETHING, YOU NERVOUS ONE.

The fear-rage-fight-flight-offensive defensive emotion is primitive, instinctive and common to animals, savages and civilized men. Its physiological effect is an immediate increase in the and civilized men. Its physiological effect is an immediate increase in the secretion of adrenin from the adrenal glands into the blood. This adrenin liberates glycogen (animal starch, blood sugar) from the liver and the muscles, where glycogen is stored, into the blood. Glycogen is fuel, for quick conversion into energy. The quick conversion into energy. The adrenin promotes oxidation or combus-

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON.

BUZZ WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—The labor bees are buzzing again, and it looks as if someone may get stung this time. King Bee Green, of the A. F. of L., privately called a few days ago for a meeting of the executive councilors in the hive here January 29. The news about it may be out by the time you read this, but for several days it was not announced, possibly because there was such an inside stir about it.

One swarm wanted to go to Miami, where the surroundings include bathing beauty revues and other relaxations for tired labor leaders. The predominant swarm decided that, while Washington offers distracting New Deal influences, it was probably a better spot to consider the serious business at hand.

7-A, the labor board and a lot of other things, but the most serious business of all will not be on the agenda.

they may face three major strikes within the next six monthstextiles, automobiles and steel.

One major labor official, not Green, is now privately predicting that all three strikes will materialize. Of course, labor leaders sometimes predict strikes for whatever bargaining advantage such a threat may bring, but anyone can see that the situation is so serious as to demand energetic attention. TEAMING What stirred up the labor hive lately was the inside report that the three large industries (textiles, auto-mobiles and steel) have some sort of unofficial working agreement on labor policy. It is supposed to call for joint action in event of Whether this report is true cannot now be stated. Automobiles and steel have frequently worked together on many things backstage. They are naturally associated in production. How textiles got into that crowd is not clear. However, the only point now arations accordingly. The subject may not be mentioned out loud at the council meeting, because the gathering was called merely to formulate a legislative policy for the coming session of congress. The council was formerly limited to 12 old-guard leaders, but the last A. F. of L. convention increased the membership to 13 and let a lot of young guards in. That means it will be lively.

is that labor leaders are accrediting the reports and making prep-

BEWILDERED The white shirts cannot yet understand what happened to their White Sulphur business con-ference report when submitted to the White House.

They know the published stories were wrong about their emissary being snubbed by the president. It was their mistake, due to the fact that the business emissary went to the White House without an appointment and found President Roosevelt's schedule full for the day. The White House asked him if it could arrange an appointment for the next day, but he had to be in New York that day, so he left the business platform.

That was understandable, but it does not explain why Mr. Roosevelt let the platform remain in a pile of papers for several days without looking at it.

Even more perplexing is the fact that a certain gentleman at the White Sulphur Springs conference was supposed to be an in-direct representative of the president. He did not directly say so, but he talked and acted like it, and they accepted him as such. counseled moderation in the platform and they followed his advice. In view of what has happened since, they are beginning to wonder whether they were outwitted.

FUN Wait until Uncle George Holden Tinkham hears about Secretary Hull. Congressman Tinkham was excited in a statement a few days ago because Secretary Perkins has co-operated with the League of Nations in labor matters. He does not know it yet, but Mr. Hull has gone a step further and sent Brain Truster Professor James Harvey Rogers to Geneva to confer with other world economists under the auspices of the League.

Mr. Hull's perfect alibi is that Professor Rogers was appointed by the League as the American member of the economic commit-tee. At two earlier meetings, the United States was represented by Professor Viner and Professor Thorpe, brain trusters both.

It may be true that the New Deal had little to do with the Rogers appointment. He has not been active in New Deal service Following his return from the silver survey in China, he was not invited to the White House for presentation of his report, although friends saw him waiting at the telephone for the call that RESPECT Senator Glass is still chuckling about that labored and indirect explanation offered by the federal reexplanation without referring to his charges and privately he fully appreciated the compliment. But if Glass had seen the direct reply written and torn up by Chairman Eccles on Christmas Eve, there would have been real fireworks here for Christmas.

FRANKFURTER Just because you never hear of Felix Frankfurter any more does not mean that the father of the brain trust has vanished from the New Deal scene. The fact is he has become the invisible man of the New Deal. He has flitted in and out of the White House at least twice and probably much oftener during the last few weeks. Presumably he is lending aid in preparation of the message to congress.

Another Letter From a Bald-Headed Dad to His Red-Headed Daughter -By Robert Quillen -

My Dear Louise: Books on etiquette have told us the right way to do almost every thing, from dressing the bride to eating corn on the cob, but all social guides seem to have overlooked the more important business of telling

Perhaps no rule could fit all occasions and emergencies, but you can't go far wrong if you assume that whatever you do best is a social offense. If you are a seem dull. If you are a good talker, you probably talk too much. If you are good at repartee and fancy yourself a wit, you probably seem rude; and you are good at telling stories, you probably bore everybody. We are all inclined to follow the easiest ROBERT QUILLEN. way, and the thing that is easy to do tempts us to overdo it.

That, I suppose, explains the three cardinal sins that debase and destroy the art of conversation, both in company and in the privacy

They are sins because they give offense or hurt decent pride or cause people to feel ashamed of the human race. I have observed that four ladies, of approximately the same age and social rank, can simultaneously talk about four different matters and neither take nor give offense. But a man or a woman older than yourself prefers talking solo. It is rude to offer competition. Even a duet is bad taste. And to interrupt, in a louder tone, to claim the floor by force, is finally to hit bottom in bad manners.

The second sin, only a little less offensive, is that of setting people right. Nobody has a divine call to correct the mistakes of others. a word is pronounced wrong, an error of fact made, or a story told with the details incorrect, keep your mouth shut though the effort burst a blood vessel. It isn't your job to mend a faulty world. And in all this broad land you will find nobody who enjoys being corrected by a know-it-all.

The third and least sin, but none the less an offense, is the moro habit of using stop-gap stereotyped phrases to avoid the effort of thinking. Don't, if you love me, say such things as "So what?" "You said it," and "Are you telling me?" urine.

A wild animal either struggles to escape whatever frightens it or attacks and fights whatever enrages it. That's the natural way to react it. That's the natural way to react of your immortal soul.

FAIR ENOUGH

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER

Journalistic NEW YORK, N. Y., Dec. 28.—There are hopeful indications that the trial of Bruno Richard Hauptmann, the German carpenter who was arrested for minding $15,000 cash, entrusted to his care by a penniless friend, will be iducted in strict accordance with the highest principles of American journalism and justice.

Journalism and justice.

Under the American system, the ideal trial is one which is held beforehand in the newspapers and on the radio. Accordingly, in the Hauptmann case, the evidence has been very thoroughly canvased in advance and the court has been relieved of all but the most nominal responsibility in the matter. All that remains now is for the jury to retire with a complete newspaper file and decide upon a verdict according to the interviews and the pictures.

The jury will, also, doubtless give The Jury will, also, doubtless give due consideration to the radio appeal of Mrs. Bruno Richard Hauptmann, broadcast on Christmas Night, in the course of which she said she had not brought their own child around to see him in the jail because that would have broken the lowing father's heart. There were other references to the Hauptmann's own haby in the radio appeal which doubtless went straight appeal which doubtless went straight hauptmann's own baby in the radio appeal which doubtless went straight to the hearts of the jurors who will bring in the verdict after the purely nominal courtroom trial has been finished. It might have been a fine artistic touch to pinch the Hauptmann's baby or jab it with a pin and stick its chubby little face up to the microphone so that it could squawk an innocent babe's appeal to the jurors on

A home-made ladder was not the lightest market by the lightest market and the lightest market ma ladders. A home-made ladder was used in the Lindbergh murder and the ensuing publicity is believed to have been a great thing for the ladder trust. The home-made ladder proved unreliable and broke.

The autobiographical rights are well in hand, however, and the customary vague proportion of the net receipts will be awarded to the gin fund. One New York editor has made arrangements to cover the trial strictly as news and employ only newspaper reporters on the assignment. He will doubtless be looking for a job before

ONLY 299 U. S. BANKS NOT NOW FUNCTIONING

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—(P)—
The federal reserve board today made public figures to show that of the 4,215 banks unlicensed after the banking holiday in 1938 only 200 were not now functioning fully.

At the same time, the board also disclosed that deposits of all commercial banks had increased by $5,700,000,000 during this year, boosting the total to a figure well in excess of $43,-000,000,000.

To Warm Springs Through
Rates of Power Company

Editor Constitution: In the column of Washington gossip written by Paul Mallon and published on your editorial page of December 24, is a statement to the effect that President Roosevelt is against the power companies and that the real roots of the president's present policy may be traced back to an experience he had at Warm Springs with the Power Company in Georgia.

I wish to state that whatever prejudice, if any, Mr. Roosevelt may have against the electric light and power industry is not due to any experience with the Georgia Power Company. Unthe contrary, I assert that Mr. Roosevelt is pleased with the treatment and the quality of the service rendered by the Georgia Power Company at Warm Springs and that he regards the charges no? only reasonable, but "Chap."

The supposed incident referred to in the article did not occur. No threat at Warm Springs averages less than 2 cents a kilowatt hour. This is not a special rate granted to him; the same rate is applicable to any other customer under the same conditions.

Mr. Mallon states in his column that we reduced Mr. Roosevelt's electric rates after he had shown us estimates for the construction of a municipal power plant at Warm Springs.

No such estimates were ever shown to us, nor was any reference made by Mr. Roosevelt to any such estimates. Our conversations with him were pleasant throughout.

In the same article, Mr. Mallon refers to "yarns" and "sewing circle stories." Frequently he deals with matter of that nature, as would be expected in a gossip column, and I find it interesting reading. In this instances I know that the statements made by Mr. Mallon are not based on fact. For this reason I am anxious that the statement of Mr. Mallon should be corrected.

Intimidation Charge Follows Ellijay Case

FORT MYERS, Fig., Dec. 28.—(P) County Prosecutor E. M. Magaba to-da, announced he has telegraphed da, announced he has telegraphed dovernor Sholtz he will prosecute persons alleged to have intimidated Florida Wordlaw, negro woman witness, in a Georgia murder charge against R. W. Randell.

Randell was accused of murder after the death of his wife in what was reported as an automobile accident near Ellijay, Ga., in 1933.

Magaha said the persons who will be prosecuted are Randell, Chief of Police Corley Bryant, Officer Charlie Varner, and Dave Waldo, negro policemen. He said he made his decision after the matter was referred to him by State's Attorney Strayhorn, who made an investigation at the request of the governor. The latter acted on complaint by Georgia authorities that witnesses were being intimidated here.

Strayhorn said the negro woman told him she had been taken by police officers to Randell's home, where she was subjected to a grilling by police and Randell in which she claimed the latter threatened her life.

soothe John junior's dissatisfaction with life in general. He had spent the day, so he explained with gloomy attention to details, in search of a job. No good.

"Never mind, dear. You are sure to find something. You mustn't be discouraged."

"Fat chance." was the sulky retort.
"You know why, too."

Jean's one idea was to get away from the confusion as soon as might be. She had a great desire to shut herself in her small room and think things out in an orderly manner. The encouragement she had received from Nan Gamble seemed to be waning in the home atmosphere. There were many things to consider before she reached a final decision.

She found herself rather hoping that Don Browne would happen in after dinner. If the opportunity presented direct. Jean believed she would tell him about Mr. Cannon. She had learned to respect Doris Judgment, in spite of the fact his conclusions always were hastily arrived at.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

A LITTLE SATURDAY TALK.

Are you able to make a good picture or design?

If so, you may find pleasure in making a cover design for your scrapbobok. Perhaps your teacher will let you work on it in art class. Whether you do it at school or at home, you will want to make it as pleasing as possible. It is well to use colors, either crayons or water-color paints.

What words will you place on your scrapbook? Many boys and girls who make a book of our corner stories print in large letters: "Uncle Ray's Scrapbook," and the top or bottom of the front cover, they sign their name. You may choose any wording you like. It is well to have one or more pictures along with the words on the cover. Pictures may be clipped from magazines or newspapers, or you may make them yourself. It is well to have one or more pictures along with the words on the cover. Pictures which stand for the things which are to go into the book. I think it a good idea to have two or three pictures—perhaps one on science, one an history, and one on for eign lands. There is hardly any limit to the subjects which will make good pictures for the cover.

Important inventions may be suggested in a little series of pictures—thus we may have a horse and buggy.

Murder Charged in Slaying of Aged Stepfather-

T. D. Bishop was indicted Friday by the Fulton county grand jury in a bill charging the murder of his aged step-father-in-law. John N. Bennett, who was beaten to death with a shotzun on December 14 in his home in Hapeville. Officials said that the killing grew out of a family argument. Bishop, who suffered a knife wound in the affray, was removed from Grady hospital to Fulton tower Friday. The slain man was 82 years old. A series of pre-holiday robberies and burglaries resulted in a string of indictments. Curtis Gray was named in a bill charging burglary of the Blue Ribbon café on Christmas Eve. P. H. Rivers and John W. Murphy were named in a bill charging burglary of Hobart Manufacturing Company December 21, in which $4.78 was taken. The pair also are charged in another indictment with possessing burglars' tools. A burglary at the home of John White December 17 resulted in the indictment of Charlie Kilgore and Rufus Jackson, negroes, who also are charged in other bills with burglaries at the homes of Marion Burdell and Rastus Brown on the same day.

Marion Maddox was named in an indictment charging robbery of an automobile owned by S. O. King on December 1, and William Longstreet, negro, was named in an indictment charging larceny of an automobile belonging to Robert F. Maddox the day before Christmas. Another Christmas Eve robbery resulted in the indictment of Simmie Bland, negro, charged with stealing a motorcycle from William Cherry.

Elton Humphries was named in an indictment charging larceny of an automobile from J. P. Holt, and was also indicted for leaving the scene after a collision in College Park with a car owned by Ballard Wingo, and for driving while intoxicated. H. P. Minor was named in a bill charging larceny of the automobile of Ollie Cooper on December 24.

PETITION IS FILED FOR ORGANIZATION OF NEW BAR GROUP

Organization of Fulton County Bar Association was begun Friday with the filing of a petition for a charter in Fulton superior court. The incorporators are A. J. Hartley. W. C. Buchanan and G. Seals Aiken, who said that membership will be by invitation only and will include only those lawyers who measure up to the qualifications required.

"We are unalterably opposed to socialism, communism, naziism, fascism and all other isms inimical to those high American principles promulgated by Washington, Madison, Jefferson, Webster and our other great statesmen who aided in winning and preserving our freedom and independence." Aikin said.

"Every member of this group must be a true disciple of American constitutional liberty, and we expect to actively fight all effort calculated to destroy or impair our constitutional

Aiken said that only men who are independent and hold the welfare of the people above any selfish or privileged interest will be accepted in the organization. The new association, he said, will co-operate with the state bar association in every way possible and may eventually affiliate with that body.

WINDER POSTOFFICE SITE IS PURCHASED

The United States postoffice at Winder, Ga., on which work will be commenced sometime in January, will cost approximately $71,000, Assistant District Attorney H. H. Tysinger announced Friday. The land was purchased Monday, Mr. Tysinger representing the government, from the Georgia Baptist Orphans' Home, Clifford E. Pratt, solicitor-general, representing the home.

Mr. Tysinger also disclosed that he had filed three petitions this week in federal court for condemnation of land to be added to the Cherokee national forest. One petition was for 1.940.6 acres of land in Murray and Gilmer counties, while the others extended over Dawson, Union and Fannin counties.

HARRELL IS CONFIRMED FOR WESLEY M. E. POST

Bishop W. N. Ainsworth, of the North Georgia Methodist conference, has confirmed the appointment of the Rev. Love B. Harrell as assistant pastor of the Wesley Memorial church, Dr. Felton Williams, pastor, announced Friday.

Mr. Harrell will handle the services at the church while Dr. Williams will travel in the northern part of the state in an attempt to raise money to pay off the church mortgage. He will visit the churches of the North Georgia conference.

Mr. Harrell is 31 years of age. He graduated at Emory University in 1924 and since that time has held various positions in the motion picture industry, including that of secretary to the motion picture code authority here.

The New Ford V-8 for 1935 is the biggest and roomiest Ford car ever built. It is a strikingly handsome car, with modern lines and new, luxurious appointments.

But most important of all it is especially designed to give you smooth, easy riding over all kinds of roads - "a front-seat ride for back-seat riders."

COMFORT TO MATCH MODERN PERFORMANCE OF V-8 ENGINE

This ease of riding is achieved by the use of three basic principles never before combined in a lowprice car.

- 1. Correct distribution of car weight by moving engine and body forward eight and a half inches.
- 2. New location of seats by which the rear seatis moved forward, toward the center of the caraway from the rear axle and away from the bumps.
- 3. New spring suspension which permits the use of longer, more flexible springs and increases the springbase to 123 inches.

The result is Center-Poise - which not only gives you a new riding comfort but adds to the stability of the car and its ease of handling. You can take curves with greater safety.

There are many new features in the Ford V-8 for 1935 which make the car still easier to drive.

INTRODUCED TODAY

A New Ford V-8 That Brings New Beauty, New Safety, and a New Kind of Riding Comfort Within Reach of Millions of People

NEW BRAKES - NEW CLUTCH -EASIER STEERING

New brakes give more power for stopping quickly with far less foot pressure on the pedal. A new type of easy-pressure clutch employs centrifugal force to increase efficiency at higher speeds. New steering mechanism makes the car still easier to handle.

The New Ford V-8 for 1935 retains the V-8 engine which has demonstrated its dependability and economy in the service of more than a million owners. There are refinements - including crankcase ventilation, cast alloy steel crankshaft and copper-lead floating connecting-rod bearings - but no change in basic design. You buy premium performance when you buy this Ford V-8-full 85 horsepower and capable of 80 miles an hour.

Other 1935 Ford features are Safety Glass throughout in all body types at no extra cost. New welded all-steel bodies. New wider rear doors. (Front doors hinged forward.) New lower X-type frame. (Makes it easier to get in and out of the car.)

WIDER AND ROOMIER BODIES-LUXURIOUS APPOINTMENTS

Rich, modern body colors, including a new gunmetal finish of striking beauty on De Luxe body types. Luxurious new upholstery and appointments. New, wider pillowed seats and softer seat cushions. (Front seats are 4 to 51/2 inches wider.) Clear-Vision Ventilation, with adjustable cowl ventilator and a windshield that opens. Combination fuel and oil

The spring leaves are tapered for quiet as well as flexibility. Larger tires have a new, wider tread, specially designed for safety and comfort. Bodies are insulated for quiet and temperature.

We invite you to see this New Ford V-8 at the showrooms of Ford dealers. You will want to ride in it - to drive it yourself. You will find it a new experience in motoring.

Highway Patrol, Court Procedure Changes To Be Discussed Today.

Reformation of criminal court pro dure and the establishment of modmethods of combatting "high ed" crime through a state highay patrol and s state bureau of identification will be proposed this morning at a meeting called by State Sen ator W. M. Lester at the Piedmon

More than 100 prominent Georgians neluding many solicitors-general, sherincluding many solicitors-general, sheriffs, legislators and state officials will discuss the situation in Georgia with the view of introducing bills in the legislature next month designed to drastically reform Georgia laws now affecting criminals.

A state driver's license law will be discussed and representatives from other states where such laws are in effect will speak at the session this morning which begins at 10 o'clock.

Bill Already Prepared.

One bill already has been prepared

One bill already has been prepared for introduction to the state general assembly and it has the approval of the Georgia Bar Association, Solicitor-General John A. Boykin said here

It proposes to permit trial of accused persons on information supplied by the prosecutor, rather than await grand jury indictment in all except capital cases and unless the accused demands an indictment within 10 days after he is charged; to reduce jury panels from 48 to 32; to equalize the number of strikes for the state and defense; to place the fixings of penalities with the court instead of the jury and to eliminate the indeterminate sentence.

jury and to eliminate the indeterminate sentence.

Boykin said such a change in procedure would save counties enormous sums and would speed justice through elimination of technicalities. The proposed bill was drawn up as the result of a study conducted in Georgia by Judge Samuel H. Sibley and a committee of the Georgia Bar Association.

elimination of technicalities. The proposed bill was drawn up as the result of a study conducted in Georgia by Judge Samuel H. Sibley and a committee of the Georgia Bar Association.

Lester Backs Changes.

Senator Lester likewise announced he was for drastic changes and he will advocate the organization of a group to follow up on the measures which the legislature passes. He asserted he was confident the general assembly this year will devote much more time and effort for the reduction of crime and lawlessness in Georgia than it has done in the past.

He said a bureau of identification would cost about $10,000 or $15.000 annually and would be of greater value in controlling crime.

Approval of the state drivers license law and the state highway patrol is almost unanimous among state officials, W. F. Shipman, vice president of the East Georgia Motor Club, asserted, He also will be a speaker at the meeting. Others who will make addresses are Captain Benton McMillan, chief of the Tennessee highway patrol, and Benjamin J. Stroup, director of the South Carolina motor vehicle division of the highway patrol, and Benjamin J. Stroup, director of the South Carolina motor vehicle division of the highway patrol and bureau of identification are meeting in conjunction to further crime control in Georgia and to reduce the heavy cost of automobile accidents and uncontrolled crime.

Decline of 13 Shown From Last Year in Records of Tuskegee Institute.

TUSKEGEE, Ala., Dec. 28.—(49)—
Records of Tuskegee Institute today showed there were 15 Jynchings in the nation during 1934—all negroes—to show a decline of 13 under the 28 lynchings recorded for 1933.

The report, released today by Dr. R. R. Moton, president of Tuskegee Institute, showed that "eight of the persons lynched were in the hands of the law—three were taken from jails and five from officers of the law outside of jails."

"There were 51 instances in which officers of the law prevented lynchings." President Moton's report stated, "and 7 of these were in northern and western states and 44 in southern states. In 46 of the instances the prisoners were removed or the guards augmented or other precautions taken.... Total of 74 persons, 14 white men, 57 negro men and 3 negro women, were thus saved from death at the hands of mobs.

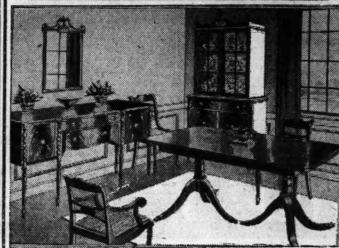

"Of the 15 persons lynched, all were negroes. The offenses charged were: Attempted assault 4; assault 2; murder 2; wounding man in altercation 1; writing insulting letters 1; talking disrespectfully 1; insulting women 1; implicating others in a charge of stealing turpentine and bootlegging it 1.

"The states in which the lynchings occurred and the number in each state are as follows: Alabama 1; Florida 2; Georgia 1; Kentucky 1; Louisiana 2; Mississippi 6; Tennessee 1; and Texas 1."

LEARANCES There is no mystery about this great sale! It is based on no empty phrases or clever patter! It lays no claim to magic or mystery! It is founded on a few simple convincing FACTS! We simply found ourselves overstocked with recently-bought merchandise—adding to our discomfiture is the almost daily arrival of tardy merchandise intended for our Christmas selling. Instead of carrying over these vast stocks until they can be disposed of in the normal course of selling, we decided on the safer, more conservative course of immediate disposal. Here, then, in a few pointed words, you have the reason for the amazing low prices offered Saturday and Monday in Haverty's After Christmas Clearance.

Miss Grace Hood Weds Willis Fuller In East Atlanta In Commerce, Ga. During the Holidays

wedding of Miss Grace Hood, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Hood, and Willis Fuller, of Anderson, S. C., took place at the home of the bride Thursday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock. A color motif of pink and green predominated in the decorations. The altar was arranged in front of the east window in the drawing room. Ferns and palms in pyramid effect reached from the floor to the ceiling which made an effective background to the floor baskets filled with Briardiff roses and the floor seven-branched candelabra holding cathedral candles, which were placed at the center and on either side of the altar. The doorways and chandeliers were festooned with smilax, and the balustrade of the stairway was entwined with smilax and studded with lighted candles. An asle was formed from the staircase to the altar with Jimmie White, of Athens, nephew of the bride, and Tommy Bowlan, of Anderson, S. C., holding the ribbons. They wore tailored suits of white rep and white satin ties.

Candles furnished the only light during the ceremony. Dr. C. C. Toole, pastor of the First Baptist church, read the marriage service. Mrs. Bright McConnell, of Augusta, played the wedding music, and Mrs. W. N. Harden sang "I Love You," by Grieg. "Ildebeatraum," by Liszt, and Schubert's serenade were played during the ceremony. The march from "Lohengrin" was used as a processional.

The bridal party included the matron of honor, Mrs. James White, of Athens, sister of the bride, Her costume of flesh moussoline de soie was fashioned on modish lines, featuring a shoulder cape and short train. Mrs. Mary P. Cooledge Celebrates 80th Birthday Anniversary Today

Mrs. Mary Peeples Cooledge will celebrate her eightieth birthday at a family dinner given Saturday evening at the Georgian Terrace, where Mrs. Cooledge has resided ever since the hotel was erected more than 20 years ago. She will be surrounded by members of her immediate family, and the table will be decorated with exquisite flowers, cut glass and silver.

Mrs. Cooledge is the representative of illustrious and distinguished Georgia families that have contributed outstanding men and women to the social, cultural and professional life of the state. She was born in Athens on December 29, 1854, the daughter of the late Judge and Mrs. Cincinnatus Peeples, her father having been one of the foremost members of the legal profession. Her brothers are Henry Peeples, Tom Peeples, Edwin A. Peeples, of Atlanta, and Howell Peeples, of Washington, D. C., who arrives here today to attend the auspicious dinner.

Mrs. Cooledge was educated at Bessie Tift College in Forsyth, when it was called the Forsyth Female College. She has resided in Atlanta for 65 year and was married to the late Aurelian Cooledge in 1884. Her only ATHENS, Ga., Dec. 28.—Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Hargrove announce the marriage of their daughter, Elizabeth Parks. to William Latimer Garner, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Garner, of Rockmart; Ga., the ceremony was solemnized Tuesday afternoon at the pa-sonage of the First Methodist church, with the Rev. Lester Rumble officiating. The bride was lovely wearing a gown of blue crepe trimmed with silver cloth, and matching accessories. Her flowers were bride's roses and valley lilies. After a wedding journey Mr. and Mrs. Garner will reside in Dahlouega. The bride is a student of the university from which the bridegroom graduated.

A three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bridal party, centered the table, which also featured roses, evening in Coral Gables in the present of the services of the service. The work of ceremony before an altar improvised with palms and tropical foliage.

The wedding party was composed of the bride and bridegroom, Jack R. Frank, of Corinth, Miss., who gave his sister in marriage, and Joseph Fine, of Marietta, Ga., who assisted as best man.

The bride's wedding gown was fashioned of angel, skin lace posed over white satin and threaded with a fine gold thread. The sleeves, which were close fifting at the wrist, were full at the shoulder. The gown, a Lavin model, was designed with a square neck, reaching to the floor in front and featuring a short train in the back. A coronet of pearls and brilliants confined the bridal veil which fell over the bride's dark hair. She carried a bouquet of gardenias and illies of the valley.

Mrs. Frank entertained with a dinner party, following the service. The hostess was attired in a dusky-pink crepe frock studden with brilliants, and wore a cluster of talisman roses.

Mrs. Fulghum

Conscientious scruples may deter them from divorce. The presence of children in their homes may keep them together. Financial exi-gencies may tie the wife to a mar-riage that she loathes. Pride may restrain them from acknowledging that one has cheated the other-in the great bargain of life, but that fifty-fifty satisfaction and sense of security is over when the arrange-ment ceases to be mutually profit-able.

Money is not the coin of profit in this realm. but love and the things that go with it; pleasant companion-ship that is compounded of sympa-thy and understanding, selfless consideration, one of the other, mutual willingness to forgive and forget in-jury, confidence exchanged, loyalty, that can be relied upon, a sharing of joys and sorrows.

A man and woman fall in love with each other, get married with the firm conviction that it is a fifty-fifty bargain. He will make the living, she will run the home on a scale that his living warrants. They will be partners in everything, with all this implies. But she turns out to be a poor manager or an extravagant person. She runs her husband in debt and keeps him harassed day and night by bills he cannot pay. Or it may be that she is one of those women who is never satisfied unless she is chasing some social excitement, a woman whose one thought is to dress herself up and gad about, regardless of duties neglected in her home. She may be one of despised complainers who never feels well and grunts and groans and makes a continuous bid for the sympathy of a poor husband who works hard all day and then must come home to the hardest of all tasks—listening to a recital of symptoms, every one of which he has heard a thousand times. Are the husbands of these wives finding the marriage bargain mutually profitable? Hardly.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Dec. 28.—

(P)—George F. Johnson, shoe manufacturer listed by the senate munitions committee as one of the Americans who had million-dollar incomes in the years preceding 1920, said tonight that with suffering in the world "no man has a right to pile up money."

Johnson sent a message from Daytona Beach, Fla., to his associates and workers in the Endicott Johnson Corporation.

workers in the Endicott Johnson Corporation.

The manufacturer said he was "ashamed and mortified" because his name was on the munitions committee's list.

"I have comparatively little left, of the price of the business which we hold," Johnson said.

"It will be, I am sure, a source of satisfaction for you to know that each year my principal has dwindled and my expenses, gifts and use of money are increasing. Last year I think we dipped into the principal to pay commitments and obligations of every kind about $200,000 and at the rate I am going. if I live five years, I shall probably be pretty near where I started—nil."

SIAN, Shensi Province, China, Dec. 28.—(P)—A pipe-line was driven into China's vast northwest hinterland to-day as the new Tungkwan-Sian branch of the Lunghai railway was opened.

Simultaneously new life flowed through Sian, ancient seat of China's northwestern empire, giving promise of restoring some measure of the glory that was hers in centuries long past.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—(F)—Through the intervention of a New Jersey public utilities magnate, four men—two of them formerly responsible treasury officials—were indicted today for conspiracy to defraud the government in income tax settlements. government in income tax settlements. Thomas N. McCarter, president of the New Jersey Public Service Corporation, and of the Edison Electric Company, who is opposing strenuously the administration's power program, went before a District of Columbia grand jury at the request of Secretary Morgenthau and federal prosecutors. The jury returned indictments against: Morgenthau and federal proseculars. The jury returned indictments against: John W. Hardgrove, former associate chief conferee of the internal revenue bureau, who had been dismissed following an inquiry instituted by Morgenthau; Henning R. Johnson, former auditor in the bureau, who was discharged with Hardgrove; Frank B. McElbill, of New York city, a private tax consultant, and Richard E. Callarban, a business associate of McElbill. For reporting the cases, Morgenthau praised McCarter as a "public spirited citizen." The utilities man protested the activities of the tax consultants to the treasury head and the latter ordered an inquiry which involved the two former revenue bureau officials. The exact nature of the alleged conspiracy was not revealed, but the indictments recited numerous laws and regulations prohibiting the divulgence of confidential information obtained from tax returns. They alleged that Hardgrove and Johnson violated these regulations and arranged with the New York consultants to settle certain tax cases in controversy between the treasury and

Ladies Turn Backs on Races To Watch Movie Stars Arrive

PASADENA, Cal., Dec. 28.—(By Air Mail.)—Six miles out from Pasadena, where the Sierra Madra mountains look lown, they have built the Santa Anita race track.

And there I watched Head Play and Riskulus, whom I saw run at the Downs in Kentucky, take a beating in the Christmas Day stakes as High Glee, a brown filly from the C. V. Whitney stable, came from behind in the stretch to beat out the long shot, Chictoney. Riskulus ran third and Time Supply, the fa-vorite, finished behind Head Play.

I remembered that lazy afternoon at Churchill Downs in 1933 when the Kentucky Derby was one day away and Mrs. Silas B. Mason purchased Head Play, the son of My Play, so that her colors might run in the Derby.

Head Play was the favorite then and was the favorite when the bugle called them to the post. He was leading in the the bugle called them to the post. He was leading in the stretch but a maiden colt from the Bradley stables came from behind. And then even as they plunged on side by side, Don Meade and Carl Fisher staged their famous stretch battle and Meade won, throwing Head Play off stride a bit and into the front to win by a head.

And in the dressing room that afternoon Fisher and Meade fought and the hard-faced little fellow from Idaho won that as he had won for Colonel E. R. Bradley. I saw him as they pulled him away, and he came downstairs to talk to reporters with his breath still fast and the grimness still in his eyes and on his lips.

Meade was riding here but he was never in front in his races. He was up on Riskulus in the Christmas stake and brought him in third to beat Head Play again. But he was never a winner in three races.

But it was not like Kentucky. Somehow the big purple mountains, towering high and jagged of peak, seem painted on there.

There were orange trees with oranges and there were flowers. And this is the most modern race plant in the world because racing came back to California today after 25 years. Maybe it was the mountains. Maybe it was the compact stand and clubhouse and terrace. There were 50,000 people jammed into the first round as a result of connecting with wild swinging rights.

As the bell sounded for the opening of the second round, Baer waited in his corner, hoping that Levinsky would come charging into him. In this corner, and tore into Levinsky, driving him around the ring under a terrific body punishment. He came out of his corner in a crouch, but soon straightened up after beginning his murderous attack. The Kingfia hattempted to escape, but Baer tore after him, compelling him to retreat under a terrific bary punishment. He sawed no mercy to Levinsky and deliberately tried to knock him out as guickly as possible.

Movie stars were there in great abundance and the crowd on the terrace presented a novel sight: Most of the ladies there had their backs turned squarely on the race track and were engaged in the sport of discovering the stars.

Clark Gable, wearing the same sort of hat he wore in "It Happened One Night," was there with a party.

Robert Montgomery, looking very neat in an iron hat and with a cane hung over one arm, was also there. Let me hasten to add that he wore the usual habiliments other than the hat and cane.

Some people just will make a point of sentences such as that one about wearing a hat and cane. Joe E. Brown, in a neat brown polo coat, appeared, grin-

CHICAGO, Dec. 28.—(49)—King evinsky, the heavyweight Rock of Gibraitar, finished flat on his back, with his toes pointing to the roof, in the second round of his scheduled four-round bout with Max Boer, world's heavyweight champion, at the Chicago Stadium tonight.

Levinsky, never before knocked out, and only once floored, although he fought them all, was dropped with a murderous right-hand blast to the jaw after Baer had knocked him sagging into the ropes with a vicious body attack. The dramatic knockout came after 53 seconds of fighting in the second round.

College Group Adopts Rules For Athletes

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—(P)—The National Collegiate Athletic Association adopted today a nine-point program which, it is hoped, will help solve the vexing problem of recruiting and subsidizing of athletes.

The code was recommended by Z. G. Clevenger, of the University of Indiana, who headed a committee appointed a year ago to study the matter and make a recommendation.

Dorais' report, as chairman of the committee on public relations, struck the high note of the coaches' annual convention, which also accepted a majority report on rules, showing 80 percent of the coaches to be in favor of keeping the existing code fundamentally intact, and concluded its sessions by electing Bernie Bierman, of Minnesota, as president, succeeding Dana X. "Continued welfare of the coaches depends upon our ability to do something about curbing the increase in excessive drinking in our stands. This committee recommends that a strennous effort be made to curtail this practice at football games. Refusing admittance to anyone plainly under the influence of liquor and ejection from the stands of those who annoy their neighbors should be a universal practice at college games.

Thornhill Reports Stan-ford Has Finest Session of Year.

By Ralph McGill.

By Ralph McGill.

PASADENA, Cal., Dec. 28.—Alebama had the best workout of the week today, going out in the morning to cross up the 500 or so who also have watched them each day.

It was largely defensive work, with Frank Thomas at last getting elbow room in which to demonstrate a thing or two about the three defenses, planned against Stanford's running game. Over in the Vista del Arroyo, which was the hotel housing the Yellow Jackets when they came west to with the national title on January 1, 1929 I found Tiny Thornhill, coach of

And guess what Tiny Thornhill had to say? That's right. His outfit had just had the best practice it had had all year.

And Tiny Thornhill, radiating confidence from every pore of his 245-pound frame, said the game looked even with the team which could make the breaks as the team likely to win.

PRETTY GOOD.

"And." said Tiny, "we've been pretty good at making them this fall."

The Stanfords are large and husly and several of them look like the great athletes they are. Bobby Grayson and Bones Hamilton do not look like anything except great ball players.

Meanwhile Alabama seems to be the favogite team out here. Sentiment is swinging that way largely because the boys hope they are wrong. In the past they have gone overhoard en the coast team only to see Alabama win two and tie one.

Thornhill explained that he believed his team would have defeated the 1930 or 1931 Southern California team which beat Georgia and Tulane.

This finds your correspondent in a contrary mind. I just don't believe it. If it is a better team than El Trojan of those years then Alabama will have a terrific struggle. As it goes I think the Crimson Tide will win on its passing and kicking.

SCORE FIRST.

The big chance is to score first and then let Dirie Howell kick them very blue in the face.

Jimmy Angelich, who is no more valuable to this Alabama team than your right arm is to you in person, did not work today. His injured ankle has been baked so much it has blistered. He was in uniform.

Taking up the task of selecting a golfdom "Big Ten" of the year where Gene Sarazen left it for a far east trip, Dutra ranked 1934's selections, after Runyan, in this order:

Ky Laffoon, Harry Cooper, Tommy Armour, Gene Sarazen, Horton Smith, Wiffy Cox, Bobby Cruickshank, Jimmy Thompson and Craig Wood.

Eight of Sarazen's 1933 selections did not receive mention on Dutra's honor roll. They included the old masters, Walter Hagen and MacDonald Smith, and last year's number one player, I'snny Shute.

"Runyan clinches first place beyond all argument, for he won the National P. G. A. title and the season records prove that he led both in the low-scoring and in money-winning," said Dutra.

"Runyan is the most persistent corer I have seen in the last two or hree years, and is the greatest shot-aver in golf. He is tremendously accurate and a marvelous putter.

"Ky Laffoon, the newcomer from the west, has just as clearly earned the number two ranking, for he was second in low scoring and third in money winning.
"I rate Harry Cooper third this year because he won the old-established Western Open championship and finished well up in other tournaments. In the last few years he has cut down his long backswing, and if he would his long backswing, and if he would his long backswing, and if he would accept a few bad breaks with a smile he would be one of the greatest golfers who ever played.

"Jimmy Thompson is not only the longest hitter in golf, but one of the most reliable drivers.

"He will win a lot of tournaments before he is through. He has a fine temperament and in the last two years has improved threefold at his short game, from 100 yards to the flag.

"Craig Wood takes tenth place because he was runnerup to Runyan in the P. G. A., the hardest of all tournaments to win. Wood and Thompson are as like as two peas, with the former a little more abbreviated on the backswing. Craig would be one of the greatest golfers in the world if hewere a good niblick player."

Sabath said he and his Chicago associates would remain in charge of the meeting whatever disposition eventually was made of the properties.

STANFORD READY TO GIVE ALL.

PASADENA, Cal., Dec. 28.—You can take it directly from such eminent authorities as Tiny Thornhill and the entire Stanford football team that if the west falls before Alabama next Tuesday, it will not be because Stanford took the game too lightly or came here for a romp.

This time, at least, Stanford is in deadly earnest. Cardinal coaches and players have heard too often that the prides of Palo Alto have yet to play up to peak form in a Rose Bowl contest.

These charges have come with the sting of a nettle. They have been passed back to the team by the genial, easy-going Thornhill, who has been working overtime to build up the right mental attitude for the big day.

Stanford has been known on the coast as the team that plays football for fun more than anything else, but this time there will be no fun to speak about in a Stanford defeat.

Stanford is keyed up for this next occasion, ready to fire all the artillery in the arsenal.

"We know how strong Alabama is," Thornhill said. "We know we have a big, fast team to meet—a team ably coached, mentally keen and ready to go. No easy-going football is going to beat a team of this type, and Stanford knows it. It will take the best we have, and that is exactly what Stanford is going to give. Both teams have strong lines, fine ends, good kickers, passers and blockers, plus good ball carriers. That should mean a football battle worth looking at. If Alabama can take us she will take a pretty good football team, giving everything it has."

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—(P)—So far as the national rules committee is concerned, collegiate football will continue to sacrifice the spectacular for the safety of the player.

Walter R. Okeson, chairman, made that plain today in submitting his re-

Stanford's double workouts up to Sunday are pretty fair proof that the western defenders are overlooking nothing on their way down the stretch. As far as one can probe the hidden mysteries of human thought, you can see that both teams deep down under feel that they have just a little on the other fellow, but the margin isn't wide enough for any comfort.

I know Alabama feels that Stanford isn't going to make any great While Okeson reflected the commit-tee's belief that radical changes are not imperative, he hinted come minor tinkering may come out of the pres-sure, largely from the outside, that the game be made more colorful and spectacular.

As both are big and fast they should add more than a light puff to the southern attack.

The action, he said, follows the refusal of the athletic council to permit the Chicago Bears and the Brooklyn Dodgers, professional football teams, to use the university's stadium and football field for a charity game received.

football field for a charity game recently.

Fowler said that President James D. Hoskins mentioned the incident in his report to the trustees, who met in Memphis yesterday.

"Then someone was referred to the executive compittee," Fowler said. "We will discuss the possibility of reorganization with the athletic council." The council is composed of four faculty and two student members, a trustee and a Knoxyille businessman. Professor N. W. Dougherty is chairman.

school, the defending boys title holder, and Gilbert A. Hunt Jr., of Washington rated first among the juniors, showed the way to both fields by winning their matches in straight sets.

Low had an easy time whipping Paul A. Spenrath, of Fordham prep. 6-1, 6-2. Hunt, however, had to work hard to avoid going into a third set, for Wilson Rood, of Poly prep, proved tough beating. Hunt emerged the victor, 9-7, 6-4.

Donald Leavens, the Wisconsin at Northwestern University and is seeded fifth among the juniors, earned the right to play Jackie Behr, No. 2, junior star, tomorrow when he crushed Albert A. Barrows Jr., of Providence, R. I., for his third one-sided victory in a row. He-scored at 6-1, 6-2.

Behr's victim was Morton S. Davis Jr., of the Choate school, Behr prevailing at 6-3, 6-4.

The program will take the form of the informal rehearsals which Roxy the informal rehearsals which Roxy holds in preparation for all of his broadcasts. No orchestra will be used and there will be no prepared script. Solo specialties will include Henrietta Schumann's rendition of the Rachmaninoff transcription of Fritz Kreisler's "Liebesfreud," "The Object of My Affections," sung by Larry Taylor: "Captain Stratton's Fancy," by Alfredo Seville, and Massenet's "Open Your Blue Eyes."

MODERN MINSTRELS—"The Modern Minstrels," one of the top-most hour broadcasts on the Columbia system starring Bert Swor and Lou Lubin, the two grand "Old Men" of minstrelsy, will be heard on a new schedule starting this afternoon at 3 o'clock over WGST. Increasing popularity in the old-fashion show caused the change to a week-end hour. Featured on the program are Announcer Harry von Zell as interlocutor, and Leith Steven's orchestra.

GRETE STUECKGOLD The dis GRETE STUECKGOLD—The distinguished soprano of the Metropolitan, Grete Stueckgold, will interpret three phases of music when she is heard over WGST from 8 to 8:30 tonight. Her first song "One Night of Love," will be followed by Johann Strauss "Voices of Spring," and Bishop's beloved "Home Sweet Home." "The Variety Singers," under the direction of Andre Kostelantez, will revive the "Limehouse Blues." The orchestra will round out the program with "How Ahout Tomorrow Night?" "Tve Got an Invitation to a Dance" and "Give Me a Heart to Sing To.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—(P)—A clan to more than double the size of the civilian conservation corps tonicht was under serious consideration by President Roosevelt as part of a proud winter work relief program. There were simultaneous indica-tions, however, that his program is not yet complete. Singly and is groups, the president summoned cabl-net officers and advisors to go over the plans. Both he and these offi-cials held in close confidence any sec-tions of the program that had been agreed more.

tions of the program that had been agreed upon.

The civilian conservation corps proposal was described by officials in non-quotable fashion, as likely of adoption by the president. The extent of the increase in the corps was said to have been not yet fully decided upon, but a figure of 1,000,000 men was the one mentioned most frequently. The CCU now has upward of 350,000 enrolled.

Several other changes also were described as likely in the corps, such as changing the ages of enrollment to allow a broader range of relief benefits to flow from it. Under the present law, the corps would expire on March 1.

A closer tie-up of all of the workgiving agencies of the government also was described as contemplated through a central employment agency which would keep a close check on the jobs provided and what happens to the men involved. The national re-employment office was mentioned as a likely choice for this work.

In the field of work relief and public works, one of the types of work said to have been virtually decided upon was grade-crossing elimination. The national resources board mentioned this as a desirable phase of public works and suggested the use of $500,000,000 in this manner.

A wide range of other activities also were embodied in the relief plans before the president.

Renewed Accusation

Names Mrs. F.D.R. Red WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—(UP). Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt was accused anew today of radical activities in a new edition of Mrs. Elizabeth Dillinger's "Red Network," a handbook listing the nation's alleged audicals.

book listing the nation's alleged radicals.

A previous edition of the book listed Mrs. Roosevelt as a radical sympathizer, but in the new edition additional comment on her activities was inserted as follows:

"Communist Daily Worker, April 7, 1984, stated she (Mrs. Roosevelt) and Miss Perkins (secretary of labor) were donating their services broadcasting over Socialist Debs' memorial radio station WEVD, for the benefit of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union (which received $100,000 from the Garland fund for one communist-led strike) and suggested that this official cooperation might explain why the federal radio commission had lately granted this socialist radio station an increase in wave length." (Sic.)

The new material was called to Mrs. Roosevelt's attention at her press conference today. She said she never had spoken to the radio commission about any station, nor had she made a speech for the International Ladies Garment Workers' Union. As far as she knew, she added, she had never spoken over station WEVD.

market a firm appearance today although the activity was considerably under that of the previous session. The recent depressed rails and utilities showed the greatest rallying powers. Gains and losses in industrials were about evenly divided and prime investment issues did little or nothing.

Transfers totaled $10.572,000, par alue, compared with $13,316,000 yes-erdsy. The Standard Statistics Company average for 60 domestic corporate loans was up 2-10th of a point pany severage for out domestic corporate loans was up 2-10th of a point at 85.6.

Among principal gainers of 1 to 2 or more points were Alleghany Corporation 5s at 23, American & Foreign Power 5s at 56, American Water Works 5s at 921-2. Baltimore & Ohio 41-2s at 541-2, Certain-teed 51-2s at 711-2, International Mercantile Marine 6s at 481-4, International Telephone 5s at 64, Florida East Coast 5s at 11, New Orleans Public Service 5s at 541-2, Otis Steel 6s at 68, Paramount-Publix 51-2s at 617-8, Portland General Electric 41-2s at 51, Postal Telegraph 5s at 43.

Only about $1,580,000 of United States government securities changed hands, but most of these registered advances of 1-32d to 5-32ds of a point. The bonds of the Denver & Rio Grande recorded only minor changes despite the announcement of the company that it was deferring interest due January 1, on some of its issues, under the 60-day grace period permitted by the indenture.

Foreign obligations were relatively dull and price changes in this section were inconsequential.

PENSION PASSAGE TERMED URGENT

Shift of Unemployables' Care to States Cited by Senator Borah.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28 .- (A)-A demand for immediate enactment of old-age pension legislation echoed today from the administration's announcement that the job of caring for old and unemployable persons would be returned to the state by the federal government.

The call came as President Roosevelt shaped with his cabinet plans for a broad-scale work relief unit, designed to set the "employables" now on relief rolls to doing jobs that would result in permanent public improvements

Optional Plans Submitted.

The council recommended three optional old-age pension plans, either one or all of which might be employed. Under two of them, to which both employer and employe would contribute, the federal government would give grants to states whose pension plans conformed to standards laid down by congress. The council's recommendations were turned over to a cabinet committee which has not yet reported to the president.

Borah contended that the taking of 4,000,000 "unemployables," most of them old persons, from the federal relief rolls made the enactment of old-age pension legislation the first and most immediate concern of congress.

Senator Borah, Idaho's republican independent, was the first to raise the argument that the return of the care of "unemployables" to the states would make necessary the prompt passage of old-age pension legislation.

Pension advocates have been contending for such a measure with renewed vigor during the last few weeks. The president already has promised to recommend passage of unemployment insurance measures and has set his economic security council to studying whether this was the proper time for old-age pensions.

Optional Plans Submitted.

The council recommended three oping in Wall Street. This situation prevails tonight.

The market today found these leaders directing the entire list higher, despite recurrence on the tape of cash sales for year and adjustment purposes. Trading volume declined but gains at the close ranged to 4 points. Only 65 issues declined today while 605 advanced.

Wall Street did not consider today's market as a definite signal of a rising market, Year-end improvement quite often may be expected. But many observers believed the market had worked itself into a favorable position for a rising trend, even though operations tomorrow and Monday are likely to be curtailed and perhaps meaningless.

two spades.
South, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable, North-South

Expert players do not by any means confine their playing signals to the "echo" which calls for a constituation of a suit or for a switch to another suit. There are several situations in which the denomination of the card played may indicate something entirely different. In one of these it is of invaluable assistance in indicating to partner how long to hold up an ace of an adverse long suit. The proper use of this signal enabled East and West on today's hand to defeat South's game-going contract of two spades.

Guardedly Tarsan pushed against the great door.
It awang silently inward. He paused a moment in the opening, listening. From within came the scent of gorillas and a strange man-like scent that intrigued and troubled him. But he neither saw

As his eyes became accustomed to the gloom, he discerned that he was in a semi-circular foyer, around which were set six doors. One after another he tried them. All were locked except one, which opened and revealed a staircase. Tarsan descended, feeling his way.

At the foot of the stairs, a door blocked his way; but his groping hands found a latch. He lifted it and opened the door. Then there came strongly to his nostrils the scent of a woman—a white woman! Tarsan stepped inside and released the door. It closed with a gentle click!

With the quick intuition of the wild beast, the Lord of the Jungle guessed that he was trapped! Through the darkness he sprang swiftly back to the door, seaking to open it, but his exploring fingers found only a smooth surface. He was sealed within the murky dungeon!

"Shoals" of Inflation Warned Against by Economists.

CHICAGO, Dec. 28 .- (P)-The nam was advised today by a group its leading economists to return mediately to the gold standard. Warning against what they de-ribed as "the shoals" of inflation.

a course nearer center in its fiduciary policies was advised by the economists gathered for the annual meeting of the American Economic Association, in a report made public last night. The recommendations, made in answer to a questionnaire submitted by the association's committee on mone-tary policy, in totality urged a middle course away from inflation, away from the use of silver as part of the monetary base, and away from the idea of a central bank for the United unanimously that a fixed gold standard should be returned to speedily and that current silver purchases were dangerous as an inflationary meas-

An immediate statement by the government whether it intends to return to the gold standard was declared by the committee as important to recovery, while government gold buying was said by the economists to have little effect upon commodity prices. Ninety-three per cent of the committeemen said they believed prices should be left unhampered to find their own level.

should be left unhampered to find their own level.

Among the economic policies to which they expressed opposition were: further purchase of silver; establishment of a managed currency; establishment of a government-owned and operated central bank; vesting of currency powers in the hands of the secretary of the treasury, and memberahip of the secretary on the board of federal reserve.

Should there be a managed currency, the economists said, it should be directed by the Federal Reserve system, but before further currency and banking legislation is enacted, a committee of experts should be empowered to study both problems and submit a program.

Action Follows Wide Campaign To Save English Woman From Death

LONDON, Dec. 28.—(#)—Lydia Binks, condemned to die January 3 for the murder of her child, was re-prieved tonight.

The home secretary's decision was conveyed to the solicitor at Durham, where Mrs. Binks was scheduled to hang, who had petitioned for her reborn at York last March, was not reprieved.

CURB MARKET ISSUE

He is in prison at Leeds awaiting execution January 2.

The jury which convicted Mrs. Binks, 24-year-old domestic worker, why was separated from her husband at the time the crime was committed, added its "strongest possible recommendation" that mercy be shown be.

Testimony at her trial painted her as a simple, child-like person, whose intelligence was below normal.

Thousands of men and women affixed their signatures to the petition asking that she not be allowed to die.

Where those efforts succeeded for Mrs. Binks, they failed for Mrs. Major. The lord mayor of Hull, and thousands of others, sought, to save her from the gallows, but the home secretary's office, asserting it could find, "no grounds for clemency" in her case, was adamant.

New Trial Plea Denied In Patterson Case

FORSYTH, Ga., Dec. 28.—Judge Ogden Persons, of the Flint circuit superior court, today overruled a motion for a new trial for Julian (Pat) Patterson, Henry county man, who was convicted at Jackson in October and sentenced to life imprisonment for the death of Miss Virginia Walden, of Atlanta.

Motion for new trial was arrued of Atlanta.

Motion for new trial was argued here last Saturday, and Judge Persons reserved decision until today.

At the trial of Patt.rson the state charged that Miss Walden died August 24 as a result of injuries received in a fall from Patterson's car after he made advances to her during a ride. Miss Walden was visiting a friend near Indian Springs. Patterson said the girl either jumped or fell from his car, but that he was not to blame.

PLANT AT ROSSVILLE PICKETED BY UNION

PICKETED BY UNION

ROSSVILLE, Ga., Dec. 28.—(P)— While mill officials asserted there was no "strike" as far as they were concerned, members of the local union of the American Federation of Hosiery Workers were doing picket duty at the main plant of the Richmond Hosiery Mills here today.

A strike was called officially by hosiery union workers in session
Thursday after a committee representing the local union said a notice of a wage reduction had been posted.
Today, however, officials of the Richmond Hosiery Mills, which has about 1,200 workers, said the plant was operating partially. They said the mill was closed for Christmas and that operations were not fully resumed because they were taking inventory.

Union representatives said their ventory.

Union representatives said their members were allowed to continue the inventory work.
